

A Note from the Creator

Hey everyone,

If you're looking around this site, you might see some old logos, names, or content that belong to other companies.

I made this website when I was a kid, and I thought it would be fun to use those things. Looking back, I realize that wasn't the right thing to do.

I want to sincerely apologize to anyone whose trademarks or copyrights I might have used without permission. I was young and didn't really understand how important it is to respect those rights. I didn't mean any harm, and I definitely wasn't trying to make money off of anyone else's work. It was just a hobby, and I was excited about learning how to build websites.

This site is pretty much just an old project now. I've tried to clean up anything that might be a problem, but some things might still be here.

Just to be clear:

- * This website is not connected to any of the companies whose stuff I used.
- * I'm not responsible for anything that happens because you looked at this site.

I've grown up a lot since I made this, and I know better now. I'll always make sure to respect copyrights and trademarks in the future.

If you see something that you think is still a problem, please let me know at kyle.web.in@gmail.com

Thanks for understanding.

This website is now presented for archival purposes only. I have made efforts to remove or modify any potentially infringing content. However, due to the nature of the original creation, some elements may remain.
